Educational Series recap: ERP & CRM technology

The Chamber held its most recent Educational Series on Thursday, March 14th in the Schaeffler conference room at the Chamber. Scott Holter, Director of Business Solutions at Meaden & Moore emphasized the importance of maximizing the value of your business' Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) and Customer Relationship Management (CRM) systems. According to Scott, if your ERP system is not in sync with your strategic business plan, you may be wasting valuable time and money. However, an efficient ERP application can propel your business to the next level. When it comes to ERP and CRM technology, there are four common gaps you may discover which can hinder the efficiency of your system. By performing a gap analysis, you are able to determine the areas where you could better utilize your ERP or CRM systems, in turn, creating a more effective business. The Chamber would like to thank Meaden & Moore for their continued support of the Wooster Chamber and Scott for taking the time to speak to our members.

Representatives of Wooster Chamber members gather for the first Educational Series of the 2019 year.

Home of the popular Farmers Red, Troutman Vineyards continues to expand on its wine varieties, including fruit and ice wines.
