Leadership Wooster explores Community Development in Wayne County!

The 2023/2024 class of Leadership Wooster explored Community Development in September! Starting the day, they heard presentations from Shannon Waller, Executive Director of Main Street Wooster, and the team at the Wayne Economic Development Council. They learned about the great work these organizations are doing to continue the excellence in downtown Wooster and the new and upcoming projects in Wayne County.

Ashley Hershberger, Recreation & Community Center Manager for the City of Wooster, led Jerry Baker, owner of J. Baker Industries, in a fireside chat about the history and development of the North End of Wooster. The class then boarded the bus for a tour of Wooster, led by Justin Starlin, Chief Executive Officer of Compak. They learned all about the development of different areas in town, and explored the newest developments, buildings, and projects.

For lunch, they stopped at the newest restaurant in downtown, Mariola Italian! The class heard from owner Mike Mariola about the vision behind the restaurant, and then heard from Chad Boreman, owner of the building and the Liberty Beall apartments above the restaurant. He talked about investing in the community and gave a tour of one of the apartments they plan to offer as a corporate AirBnB.

Traveling back to Western Reserve Group, the class heard from Samira Zimmerly, President of the Wooster Area Chamber of Commerce, about the various benefits they offer to their members and the community. Vince Marion, Planning and Zoning Manager for the City of Wooster then shared about the City's Comprehensive Plan.

To end the day, Rodd Welker, President of Eagle Advisor Group, led a discussion on being an empowering leader.

It was a packed day full of good information about the Wooster community!
