HOW SEARCH WORKS

- A web crawler is software that fetches and indexes publicly available web pages.
- Google's crawler, called Googlebot, follows links from page to page, sending website
 info back to Google.

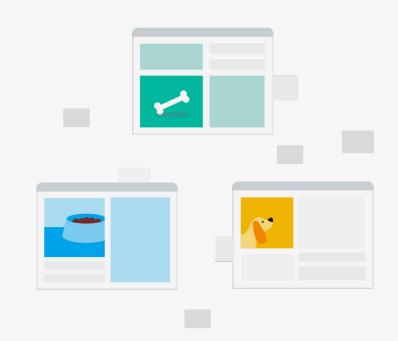

GOOGLE ORGANIZES INFORMATION

- Info is stored in Google's index.
- The index organizes info by page content and other factors.

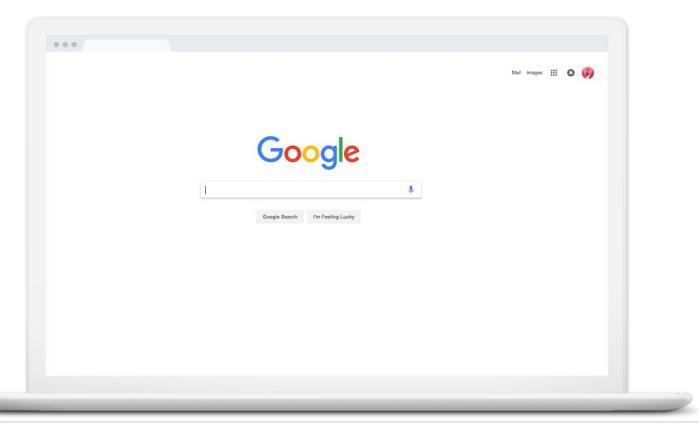

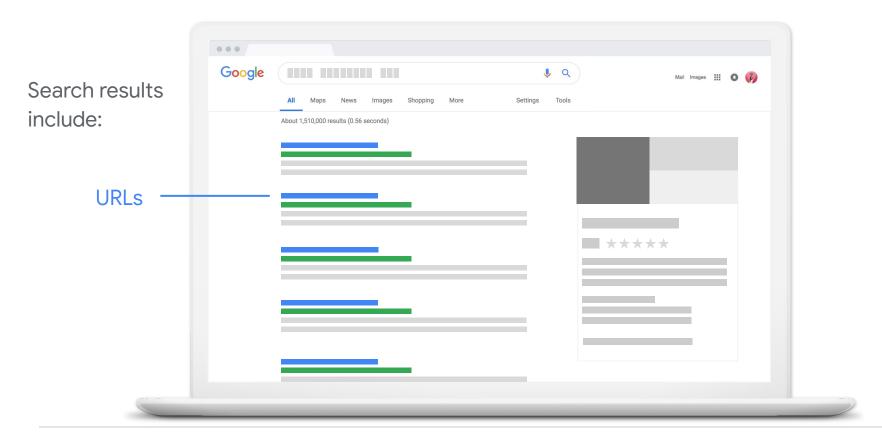

WHEN SOMEONE SEARCHES...

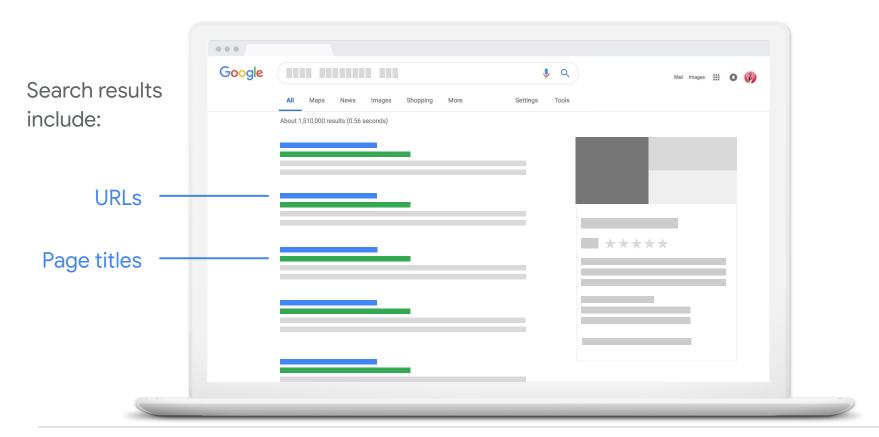

- Googlebot crawls and indexes billions of web pages.
- When someone searches
 Google, relevant and useful results—pulled from the index—are displayed.

A PERSON ENTERS A SEARCH QUERY

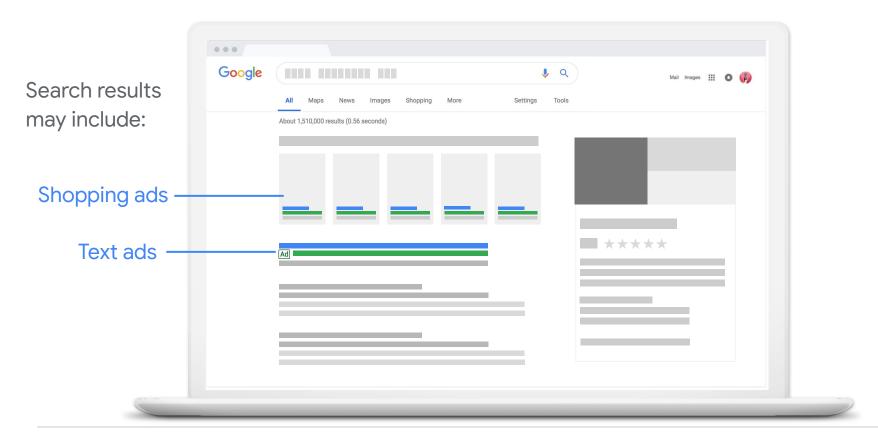

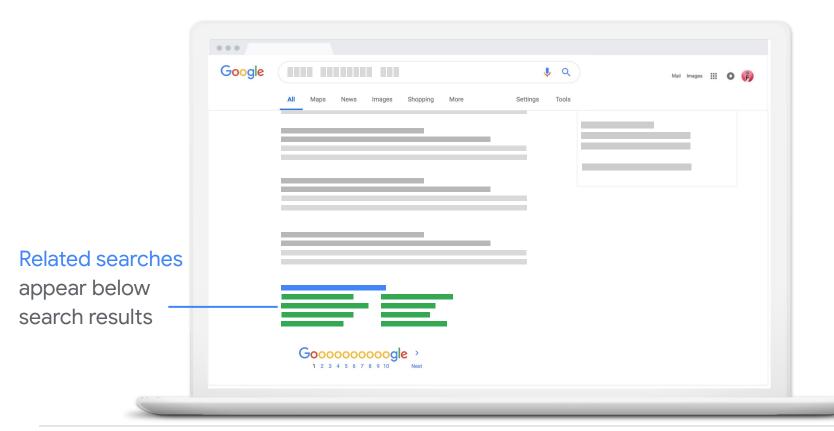

ACTIVITY: ORGANIC SEARCH RESULTS

Open a web browser and visit google.com

Search for words and phrases that should surface your business in the search results.

Do you show up?

If yes: What text appears? How does it look? Where do clicks take you?

If no: What sites show up? Do you recognize these businesses?
